A SPECIFIC FOR La Grippe, for Colds, Coughs, AND LUNG TROUBLES, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Two years ago, I had the grippe, and it left me with a cough which gave me no rest night or day. My family physician prescribed for me, changing the medicine as often as he found the things I had taken were not helping me, but, in spite of his attendance, I got no better. Finally, my husband, reading one day of a gentleman who had had the grippe and was cured by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, procured, for me, a bottle of this medicine, and before I had taken half of it, I was cured. I have used the Pectoral for my children and in my family, whenever we have needed it, and have found it a specific for colds, coughs, and lung troubles."—EATLY WOOD, North St., Elkton, Md.

DIAMOND DIGGINGS.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST THEFT IN SOUTH AFRICAN MINES.

But in spite of all this stealing still continues.—The Decline of the Town of Kimberley—Population Has Flown to the Gold Fields About Johannesburg.

"The South African diamond mines are worked almost entirely by native laborers—the Kafirs, Zulus, Hottentots and the rest," said a diamond merchant. "These receive good wages, about $125 per month, and are hired for a term of three months. During this period they are confined in compounds located on the edge of the mines. The compounds consist of rows of buildings, surrounded by a high board fence and covered by a high board fence and covering several acres of ground. Within this compound are stores, a hospital, boarding houses and other conveniences. Wood and water are furnished free, but no alcoholic liquors are allowed. During their term of service the natives are not allowed to have any communication with the outside world and are under a system of close personal surveillance in order to prevent the theft of diamonds. When they come up from the mine shaft, they are carefully searched, and many ingenious methods are adopted to reduce the loss from this source to a minimum.

"Notwithstanding all that is done, however, the theft of diamonds still continues. It is estimated that from 10 to 20 per cent of the diamonds found are stolen every year. In order to prevent this a very stringent law was passed, providing that all rough diamonds should be registered with the detective bureau of the government as soon as they were found, and that every man who sold a diamond must give with it a certificate of registry.

"The penalty for having an unregistered rough diamond is seven years on the Cape Town breakwater, and the mere fact of possession is prima facie evidence and will secure conviction. So it happens that if one laborer wants to do up another he manages to slip a rough diamond into the laborer's coat, or into his room, and then tells the police to keep a sharp lookout. Of course the police make a search, the contraband stone is found, and the man is in for a term of seven years. A great many unjust sentences have unquestionably been secured in this way, but despite the opposition to the law the company is powerful enough to keep it in force.

"There are other diamond fields outside of the Kimberley district, but they are difficult to work and are mainly exploited by diggers working on their own account. The total product is not large, and the work is very arduous, the diggers being mostly men who have been thrown out of work by the consolidation of the Kimberley mines into one vast corporation and the subsequent restriction of production. This latter, by the way, has had a curious effect upon the town of Kimberley itself. As late as four years ago Kimberley had a population of 25,000 or 30,000 people. It was laid out for a great city and enjoyed for a time a big boom.

"The brick blocks and residences were built, hotels and theaters and waterworks and everything pertaining to a modern city. Now a good third of these places are empty, and Kimberley is as dead as a New England town that is dependent upon a single mill. All the supplies and machinery for the mines are now bought of course by a single company, so that more than two-thirds of the business of the town is gone. There is nothing there to sustain a town except the mine, and with the opening up of the goldfields much of the population moved on north to Johannesburg.

"Although the existence of gold in the Transvaal had been known for years, yet the Boers disliked the invading prospectors and for a time kept them out by law. Afterward a more liberal spirit prevailed, and the Boer government offered reward for the finding of paying goldfields. But it was not until 1882 that the now celebrated gold bearing reef in which the bulk of South African gold is found was discovered, and it was not until four years later that the opening of the celebrated Sheba mine and its phenomenal yield, gave rise to a fever. Then prospectors flocked in from Kimberley and the Cape, coming by push cart, wagon, horseback or on foot. In a year there were 10,000 persons in the district. The center of the excitement was the little town of Barberton, but this section was soon thrown into the shade by the discoveries on the Witwatersrand. But while the excitement lasted the De Kaa's fields, as they were known, had their day, and 96 companies, with a nominal capital of $155,000,000, were floated, and many of the shares sold at a tremendous premium. Most of these mines are now abandoned, though the Sheba mine is still a big producer."—New York Sun.

A Reminder.
"I do not hesitate, Mr. Statato," she remarked gently, "to say that you are a young man of excellent habits, but I am very much afraid that you would spend too much of your time away from home."

"Why do you think so?"
"Because," she yawned a little, "you spend so much time away from home now."—Washington Star.

Heat and the Eyes.
The fact appears that there is a very marked difference in the way temperature is borne by the eyes when it is below 2,000 degrees F. and when above that heat. Up to such a degree a man can look at the metal in a furnace with comparative ease, but before it reaches 3,000 degrees he is compelled to wear colored glasses.

The Sac and Fox Indians are said to be the purest blooded red men in the country. They neither marry nor give in marriage outside their own tribe.

THE RETIRED BURGLAR.

Work Easily Prosecuted in the Tunnels of a Thunderstorm.

"Speaking of cinches," said the retired burglar, "the easiest, softest, smoothest snap I ever struck was in a home in a small town in Rhode Island. There was a thunderstorm coming up as I went along toward this home, and just as I got there it began to sprinkle. By the time I'd got inside it was coming down pretty hard, and I was glad to be under shelter, for I hadn't brought any umbrella with me. I hadn't had any supper either, and when I got into the dining room I thought I'd get something to eat. The sideboard was locked and the key carried up stairs, but a knife would open a pie. I set out a little snack on the table and sat down and ate it comfortably, with the rain pouring down outside. If there's anything I like, it's to hear a storm raging outside while you're settled down all snug and comfortable within.

"But here was something I hadn't counted on. The thunder was roaring and plunging like a dozen earthquakes busting down through the sky, and it kept the house in a tremble all the time. I knew nobody could sleep in that thunder. They'd be sure to be all awake, and here I was, and I hated to lose a night, and after I'd waited a little and the storm didn't show any signs of letting up I thought I'd go ahead and see anyhow. The very first room I looked into up stairs settled the whole business.

"Over in one corner of this room, beyond a bed, I saw a woman standing in front of an open closet door. Two children hopped out of the bed, and the mother pushed them into the closet, and then crowded in herself and pulled the door shut tight. It was all very simple. Husband away, no help; two children sleeping in another room, woke up by thunder, come into their mother's room, all scared; mother puts children in closet and gets in herself, as lots of folks do in thunderstorms. And then I walk over and turn the key in the lock, and there you are. No danger of their coming out till the storm is over anyway, but just as well to be sure about it, and then I just quietly go through the house. It isn't big, and it doesn't take long, and I come back before the storm is over and unlock the closet door again and skip, and that's all there is to it."—New York Sun.

THEY DEVELOPED YOUNG.

Two Famous Poets, Oliver Wendell Holmes and William Cullen Bryant.

Oliver Wendell Holmes received the degree of doctor of medicine in 1856, being then 27 years old, and in that year he also published his first volume of poems. Nothing of Dr. Holmes' has been more popular than "The Last Leaf," contained in this early collection, and none has more richly deserved to place by its rhythmic beauty and its exquisite blending of humor and pathos so sympathetically intertwined that we feel the lonely sadness of the old man even while we are smiling at the quaintness so feelingly portrayed.

Dr. Holmes was like Bryant, who composed "Thanatopsis" and "Lines to a Waterfowl" long before he had developed as a poet. He attained full development as a poet in later life, and wrote many verses in later life, nothing of theirs excelled these poems of their youth. In their maturity they did not lose power, but neither did they deepen nor broaden, and "Thanatopsis" on the one side and "The Last Leaf" on the other are as strong and characteristic as anything either poet was ever to produce throughout a long life. What Bryant was, what Holmes was, in this, his first volume of poems, each was to the end of his career.

To neither of them was literature a livelihood. Bryant was first a lawyer and then a journalist. Holmes was first a practicing physician and then a teacher of medicine. He won three dissertations upon medical themes, and these essays were published together in 1838. In 1839 he was appointed professor of anatomy and physiology at Dartmouth, and the next year he married Miss Amelia Lee Jackson. Shortly afterward he resigned the position at Dartmouth and resumed practice in Boston. He worked hard in his profession and contributed freely to its literature. In 1847 he went back to Harvard, having been appointed professor of anatomy and physiology, a position which he was to hold with great distinction for 35 years.—St. Nicholas.

Domestic Architecture in Chicago.
The inhabitants of Chicago are the least curious and observing people in the world. According to their own newspapers, they permitted one H. H. Holmes to construct in their city a house so extraordinary, so full of hidden doors and secret passages and acid proof vaults that it would have attracted thousands of curious visitors had it been built anywhere else. But the guileless Chicagoans suspect nothing. Neither the man who issued the building permit nor the men who did the building saw anything unusual about the house. What is the matter? Is all Chicago blind, or are acid proof vaults and secret passages part and parcel of the ordinary Chicago dwelling? Perhaps there is an interesting chapter to be written about domestic architecture in Chicago.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Suiting the Action.

The fool is always dead sure that his own way of doing things is the best, if not the only way, but the wise man wonders if there isn't a better way than the one he has adopted.

AN INNOCENT PARSON.

HIS ATTEMPT TO DESCRIBE A RAM FIGHT IN RING VERNACULAR.

The Bride Ventured a Suggestion Which Caught On—The Preacher Didn't Fully Succeed In Appearing Unsuperstitious. The Little Ram's Ring Tactics.

A preacher told this story at a wedding supper on the South Side the other evening:

"I was riding along a country road near Bloomington," he said, "when I noticed a group of sheep in a pasture. There was a large open space in the midst of the flock, and at either end of the space stood a ram. In the center, but standing a little at one side, was a third ram. The two rams had evidently had a falling out about something, or else they had come to settle in a friendly contest which was the better ram. Ram No. 3 seemed to be acting as a judge, umpire—what do you call it? Referee? Yes, that's it, the third ram was the referee. I don't know under what rules the meeting took place. I may have been Queensberry or Rosebery. You see I am not up to these technical matters.

"When all the preliminaries had been arranged and both contestants had been bawled off apparently that there was to be no 'fooling'—I think I have seen that word in the newspapers occasionally, and therefore I suppose it is a correct word to use in this connection—each backed off to the farthest limits of the circle, which, by the way, was not a squared circle. The referee stepped out of the way, and the rams dashed toward each other. When their heads came together, there was a terrific crash, and the force of the concussion threw them as far apart as the length of this table."

All the guests looked the full length of the table from the passion flowers at one end to the bride's cake in the far perspective, and then at the preacher in the middle distance, but nobody said anything.

"They took their places, apparently none the worse for the encounter. Again, evidently at a preconcerted signal from the referee, they dashed together. This time the shock was even more terrific than the first, and I noticed that as one of them went back to his—ah, what do they call it, corner?—he was a little unsteady on his legs.

"Groggily," ventured the bride, "I believe that is the technical term," replied the preacher, "although, as I have intimated, I am not at all familiar with sporting phraseology. When time was called for the third round—ahem—that is, I mean to say when the rams had recovered strength for a third collision, there was another rush, a crash, and one of the rams, the one you so aptly described as 'groggily' (with an acknowledgment to the bride) fell to his knees. His adversary did not seem inclined to follow up his advantage, but possibly he may have been restrained by the rules of the meeting. At any rate, after contemplating his fallen foe gravely for a moment he walked back to his position. The other ram, after resting briefly, struggled to his feet. The third ram—the one I have called the referee—looked at him rather inquiringly, as it seemed to me, but the warrior showed no sign of recognition. He ambled to his side of the ring and faced about. A murmur of some sort seemed to go through the flock. The odds were apparently 3 to 1 in favor of the other ram—that is to say, it seemed to be the general opinion that the ram with the weak knees had been outclassed, as the other one was decidedly the heavier of the two.

"However, the smaller ram seemed to have wonderful recuperative powers. When the proper interval had elapsed, he came forth smiling, as it were. I even thought I caught a twinkle in his eye, for I was quite close to the fence, and this thing took place only a little distance away. As the referee stepped back from the center of the ring, where he kept his position between the meetings, the other two rams drove at each other pell-mell. At the very instant when their hard horns would have met, however, the smaller ram suddenly changed his course to the right, and the other went through the ranks like a catapult. "Just as he turned about, evidently boiling over with indignation at the trick which had been played on him, the other one, with the added force given by a longer run from one side of the circle to a point several feet outside of it, where the larger ram's momentum had carried him, shot at him like a cannon ball, striking him full in the face and driving him several feet away, where he lay limp and helpless. The third ram, who was promptly on the spot, as I suppose every competent referee should be, nodded his head several times—in deed it looked to me as if he was counting—and then the fallen ram failing to rise the whole flock marched away toward a knoll in another part of the meadow with the victorious ram at the head. Presently the defeated ram got on his feet and made his way to a re-circled spot down by a little run, where I saw him reclining in the shade of a large willow tree as I rode away."

"What an interesting study natural history is," said the bride's grandmother as she adjusted her glasses.

"It is indeed," said the groom's father, coughing behind his napkin.—Chicago Tribune.

An Irish Student's Reply.
An Irish student, who some years ago attended the university of Edinburgh, called upon one of the most celebrated teachers of the German flute, desiring to know on what terms he would give him a few lessons. The flute player informed him that he generally charged 2 guineas for the first month and 1 guinea for the second. "Then, by my soul," replied the cunning Highlander, "I'll come in the second month."

Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors met in regular monthly session in Santa Rosa Tuesday morning. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting occupied the attention of the Board during the morning session. At the afternoon session bids from five different parties for the construction of a bridge over San Antonio creek on the line between Sonoma and Marin counties were received and placed on file.

The bids received were as follows: McMahon & Co.—Plan No. 1, consisting of steel, $1,685; No. 2, combination, $1,245; No. 3, combination, $995. J. O. Burkhalter—Plan No. 1, wood, $595; No. 2, $585. Graham & Jacobs—Plan No. 1, wood, $659. Wiley & Meeker—Plan No. 1, wood, $580; No. 2, $620. Davis, Jackson & Co.—Plan No. 1, wood, $743.

Consideration of the road bills occupied the attention of the Board until adjournment.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 9th.

The Board met in regular session on Wednesday morning, and the following road bills were allowed: E. S. Gray, road commissioner, Knight's Valley, $54.34; Mendocino, $49.81; Cloverdale, $25.25; Washington, $55.25; Healdsburg, $51.40. E. W. Hayden, Sebastopol, $354.52; Petaluma, $267.41; Marin, $46.50; Bloomfield, $105.40. Jacob Joost, Ocean, $12.50; Stewart's Point, $67.85. J. W. Hall, Fulton, $101.81; Santa Rosa, $541.80; Russian River, $44.12. P. H. Thompson, Lakeville, $667.70; Penn's Grove, $764.09; Sonoma, $876.74.

The District Attorney was instructed to institute proceedings against Juliette Anthony for right-of-way over the lands in Fulton road district, in the matter of private road asked for by W. C. Parker. The same instructions were given the District Attorney in the matter of the right-of-way wanted over the land of Samuel Crozier in the same road affair.

The afternoon session was taken up with the passing of the indigent list. About a mile of roadway running from Schmitz's place to Paternock's winery, connecting with the Grass Valley road in the Mendocino and Skaggs Springs road districts, was accepted by the Board from S. Bell and others.

The Board then took an adjournment until 8 o'clock when they were to meet the Supervisors of Marin county.

The bids for the bridge contract to be built over San Antonio creek on the line between Sonoma and Marin counties, coming up for consideration the Board accepted the bid of J. O. Burkhalter for $585, as the best and lowest bid, and the contract was so let.

THURSDAY, Oct. 10th.

Consideration of claims against the county occupied the attention of the Board during a considerable portion of the day.

The matter of the petition of Beggs et al. for a road in Petaluma district was continued to October 12th.

J. W. Swank was awarded the contract for the construction of the pier for the Preston bridge. His bid of $550 was considered the lowest and best.

Bids were also received for supplying the county hospital with bread as follows: S. Victor, 24c per pound; Emil Stahl, 24c per pound; J. C. Nathanson, 24c per pound.

The Board was also addressed at length by Morris Newton on road matters pertaining to the roads near Duncan's Mill where it is expected considerable improvements will be made in the near future.

FRIDAY, Oct. 11th.

The Supervisors refused to allow the criminal mileage bills of Sheriff Allen for the month. The bills amounted to $189, and the motion to not allow or to reject them was made by Supervisor Thompson. The motion was based on an opinion from District Attorney Seawell.

District Attorney Seawell communicated with Attorney General Fitzgerald on the matter and adopted that official's opinion. It is that that portion of section 169 of the county government act of 1893 providing that the Sheriff shall receive certain mileage to wit: twenty cents a mile as compensation in criminal cases, etc., is repealed by the fee bill of 1895. Therefore, says the District Attorney, if the Sheriff is entitled to mileage at all it must be gauged by the fee bill which is general in its application. The claims presented do not conform to the act of '95. A matter of so great importance ought to be judicially determined.

Permission to disinter remains was granted to A. D. Passalun and to Sam Lom. Lom will disinter the remains of Sam Lom. The remains will be sent back to China. The bridge over Steuart's creek in Sonoma district and the 800 feet of grade built by J. W. Swank were accepted and his bill of $510 allowed.

A warrant was ordered drawn in favor of M. McCann for $42.16 on account of taxes erroneously paid in.

"While down in the southwestern part of the state some time ago," says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints."

For sale by all dealers. Mr. J. K. Fowler, secretary and treasurer of the Corinne Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effectual in giving relief, and now keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by all dealers.

Bids were also received for supplying the county hospital with bread as follows: S. Victor, 24c per pound; Emil Stahl, 24c per pound; J. C. Nathanson, 24c per pound.

The Board was also addressed at length by Morris Newton on road matters pertaining to the roads near Duncan's Mill where it is expected considerable improvements will be made in the near future.

FRIDAY, Oct. 11th.

The Supervisors refused to allow the criminal mileage bills of Sheriff Allen for the month. The bills amounted to $189, and the motion to not allow or to reject them was made by Supervisor Thompson. The motion was based on an opinion from District Attorney Seawell.

District Attorney Seawell communicated with Attorney General Fitzgerald on the matter and adopted that official's opinion. It is that that portion of section 169 of the county government act of 1893 providing that the Sheriff shall receive certain mileage to wit: twenty cents a mile as compensation in criminal cases, etc., is repealed by the fee bill of 1895. Therefore, says the District Attorney, if the Sheriff is entitled to mileage at all it must be gauged by the fee bill which is general in its application. The claims presented do not conform to the act of '95. A matter of so great importance ought to be judicially determined.

ECZEMA From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never known a failure to cure. GEO. W. IRWIN, Irwin, Pa. J. H. Draper of Healdsburg has commenced suit to set aside the will of his wife, Elizabeth Draper, on the grounds that at the time of the making of the will she was of unsound mind and not capable to make one. The estate is valued at $2500 and consists of bank stock, real and personal property.

Principal Burk, of the Santa Rosa High School, through his attorneys, Thomas J. Geary, L. W. Julliard and W. F. Cowan, filed a suit Wednesday evening against Superintendent of Schools E. W. Davis. The complaint asks that a writ of mandate be finally issued herein directing the said defendant, E. W. Davis, as Superintendent of Schools of Sonoma county, to draw a requisition on the County Auditor of said Sonoma county, California, in favor of the plaintiff and against Court House school district for the sum of $180. The complaint goes on to state that Mr. Burk was elected at a salary of $180 per month as teacher of, in and for the High School, and as principal of all the public schools in said Court House school district. That plaintiff, on the 15th day of October, 1895, presented an order to said defendant at his office, and that said defendant failed, refused and neglected to draw the necessary requisition, wherefore the writ as above stated has been asked for.

RUN DOWN BY AN S. P. TRAIN.

Narrow Escape of Pierce Powers and G. M. Esmond.

Pierce Powers and G. M. Esmond, well-known farmers residing a few miles north of Glen Ellen, while on their way to town in a one-horse wagon on Friday afternoon last were run down by a Southern Pacific train at the Warfield crossing and had a narrow escape from being killed.

The engine struck the horse and wagon and together with the two men they were thrown high in the air. The horse was killed and the wagon badly demolished. The men fortunately were thrown clear of the track and escaped with injuries which it is thought are not serious. The train was stopped and the injured men picked up and put aboard and taken to Eldridge, where their wounds were cared for by Dr. Osborne of the Home for Feeble-Minded.

This is the second accident of the same kind that has occurred to Mr. Powers, who is an old gentleman and quite hard of hearing. A few years ago while driving a two-horse team into town he was run into by a Donahue train at the Maxwell crossing, a short distance from Sonoma, and received injuries which for a time threatened to prove fatal. He ultimately recovered, however, and in order to avoid a law suit the railroad people gave him $500 in settlement for damages.

At latest accounts both men were improving.

The Duck Season.

The open season for ducks was heralded in at an early hour last Tuesday morning by the popping of shot guns in the marshes south of town, and large numbers of mallard, teal, canvas-back and wildgeese were bagged by local sportsmen. The city nimbrod was also out in force and no less than twenty-two members of the Alameda Gun Club were blazing away all day Tuesday in the marshes bordering San Pablo Bay. These averaged about ten birds apiece, game being quite scarce near the shores of the bay. It is not true, as stated in the Chronicle of last week, that this club has leased four thousand acres from the Pacific Reclamation Company. The members of this aristocratic gun club now enjoy no more privileges in the Sonoma marshes than anybody else. Ducks there are anybody's ducks, providing the hunter keeps off the levee and fenced land and this is what the Alameda Gun Club have to do, but as they have a fine ark, steam launches, row and sail boats, they have no occasion to invade inclosed lands.

J. T. Peters Ousted.

An important change in the management of property belonging to the State of California, located near Santa Clara, and valued at about $25,000, took place last week, says the San Jose Mercury.

The property was formerly used for the purpose of the Home for Feeble-Minded Children, which was removed to Glen Ellen in Sonoma county nearly four years ago. The place contains fifty-one acres, improved, with orchard and vineyard and a number of fine two-story buildings. It is said that the erection of these buildings cost no less than $30,000. Since the abandonment of the property for use as a Home for the Feeble-Minded the management has still remained in the hands of the Trustees of the Home at Glen Ellen.

The property was put in charge of T. J. Peters, a real estate agent in San Francisco, who it was charged had badly mismanaged the same. He had something to do with the sale of the Glen Ellen site to the State, and from the first Peters was regarded with much disfavor by the Santa Clara people as being something of an intruder. On his part Peters does not seem to have attempted at first or at any other time to conciliate his neighbors and fellow citizens of Santa Clara, so that as time passed the breach grew wider, and last week there came a change in affairs. In fact Peters was ousted by the Trustees, and before the end of the present month he and his belongings, consisting of a large family of children, a lot of household furniture and a cow, will move from those precincts to more friendly quarters.

Don't Want to Pay.

An Obstreperous Editor.

By turns Editor Lemmon of the Santa Rosa Republican has senselessly attacked almost every editor in Sonoma county, regardless of their political affiliations, because they refuse to follow his lead. Particularly has this been so with the Republican editors of the county. This time he assails Editor Thompson of the Santa Rosa Democrat, who incurred his displeasure because he happened to differ with him on a matter of public interest. The latter, however, is more than able to hold his own in fighting Mr. Lemmon with his own kind of weapons, as the following extract, which will be read with satisfaction by many Republicans in Sonoma Township, will show:

"The Republican, which does nothing without being well paid for it, has the insolence to insinuate that the Democrat is influenced by obligations to what he calls 'the gang.' It is false. It is not only false, but comes with bad grace from a cormorant like the editor of the Republican, who absorbs all the plunder of his own party, and is gorged to the throat with patronage. He may be feared by his party, but he is also thoroughly hated and despised by many of them, both in and out of the county, and sooner or later they will de-horn him. If he could see himself as others see him, he would be surprised to know how far his bump of self-esteem had led him astray in his estimate of his own importance."

Sonoma County vs. Stofen.

The trial of the People of Sonoma county vs. P. N. Stofen and his bondsmen, J. H. Brush, M. Doyle, A. P. Overton, Hollis Hitchcock and Con Shea, was commenced Tuesday before Judge Dougherty in Department 2 of the Superior Court. P. N. Stofen, Mrs. Stofen and Judge Moore were witnesses who testified to the commission of the robbery and the facts relating to the finding of Mr. Stofen in the vault.

District Attorney Seawell is representing the people, while attorneys J. H. Barham and A. G. Burnett represent the defendants. The suit is brought by the county to recover $7,815.79, the amount of the loss suffered by the county by the robbery. There was also besides the above amount $585 of Captain Stofen's private funds stolen, making a total of $8,400.79 in cash taken by the robber. In the answer to the complaint filed by the defendants they only allow for a shortage of $6,816.19, claiming that $863.80 belonged to the redemption fund and was money paid to the Treasurer by private parties for the purchase of delinquent tax sales; also $135.80 belonging to estates of deceased persons and unclaimed. Both of the amounts were kept by themselves and were considered as separate moneys and were not treated as county money. The evidence in the case is all in and all the necessary witnesses in the suit were examined and the case continued to a future date for argument. Santa Rosa Democrat.

Plaids are so varied as to be almost indescribable. Large squares of red and black stand out from a yellow background; dull green and black on tabac, loutre and black on violet, ruby and black on emerald. These violent effects are carried even into hosiery, the lower portions of the stocking being black and the upper a correct tartan design. Sometimes even the entire stocking is plaid.

Caramel Custard—Put two dessert spoonfuls of granulated sugar in a saucepan, and let it stand on the fire where it will dry slowly till it begins to brown. Then stir constantly till it is a thick, black syrup. Pour it into a quart of scalding milk. Add four ounces of white sugar stirred into the yolks of six eggs. Pour into cups, set in a pan of hot water, in the oven, and bake twenty minutes, or bake in pudding dish and serve cold with cream.

A child, while walking through an art gallery with her mother, was attracted by the statue of Minerva. "Who is that?" she said. "My child, that is Minerva, the goddess of Wisdom." "Why didn't they make her husband, too?" "Because she had none, my child." "That's because she was wise, wasn't it, mamma?" was the artless reply. Harper's Bazar.

We secure the best patents for our clients, and the oldest of this offer is to encourage inventors to keep track of their bright ideas. At the same time we wish to impress upon you the fact that such as the "car-window" which can be easily slid up and down without breaking the passenger's back, "sauce-pan," "collar-button," "bottle-neck," and a thousand other little things that most any one can find a way of improving; and these simple inventions are the ones that bring largest returns to the inventor.

IT IS NOT SO HARD AS IT SEEMS.

Patents taken out through us receive special notice in the "National Recorder," published at Washington, D. C., which is the best newspaper published in America in the interest of inventors. We furnish a year's subscription to this journal, free of cost, to all our clients. We also advertise, free of cost, the invention each month which wins our $500 prize, and a description of this invention will be scattered throughout the United States among capitalists and manufacturers, thus bringing to their attention the merits of the invention.

No Latchkeys at Buckingham.

Queen Victoria evidently disapproves of young ladies carrying latchkeys. The Princesses Victoria and Maud of Wales recently paid a visit to their royal grandmother at Buckingham palace. These young ladies are most democratic in their tastes, and they would have preferred to enter and leave the palace by a side door and thus dispense with the formalities of the royal entrance. Accordingly they asked for latchkeys. This request, after receiving the attention of several members of the household, was finally laid before the queen, who spent little time in considering the question and sent word to the princesses that she considered latchkeys out of place in Buckingham palace.—New York Herald.

Should Patronize Home Beauties.

Americans spend at least $75,000,000 a year in visiting Europe for pleasure and hardly $1,000,000 at our own natural wonders of Niagara, the Yosemite valley and the Yellowstone park. Most of the tourists at these home resorts are Europeans. Among the 3,000 visitors to the Yellowstone park during the last three years only 60 were Americans. It seems to be the opinion of the American that the proper study of mankind is man, and not scenery.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Diszy Heights.

Persons who cannot restrain a shudder when they look from a height to the earth below will appreciate the experience of Clough, the English poet. He was once conducted to the edge of a precipice in Wales by a friend, and the effect on his nerves was so violent that he fell back on the grass ghastly pale and ill like a man at the point of death.

Set yourself earnestly to see what you were made to do, and then set yourself earnestly to do it, and the latter year will be the more sure you will be to make the world richer with every enrichment of yourself.

Shoplifting Extraordinary.

Judge—What's the charge against this man?

Green Policeman—Faith, Oi believe they call it "shop lifting," sor.

Judge—You believe? Don't you know? Explain what he did.

Policeman—Well, he troled 't blow up a droy goods store he-wor discharged from.—Philadelphia Record.

The Reason of It.

Parsons has just discovered why political aspirants always have their legs pulled.

Giglamp—Why?

Parsons—So that they can take longer strides when running for office.—New York Herald.

There is one medicine which every family should be provided with.

We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment and bound on over the seat of pain, will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by all dealers.

A SELLER IN ARKANSAS.

FOREST CITY, Ark. Messrs. Lippman Bros., Savannah, Ga. Dear Sirs:—We take great pleasure to add one more certificate to your long list. We are truly satisfied that Prickley Ash, Poke Root and Potassium Compound, P. P. P., is one of the best sellers that we have ever sold on our shelves since we have been in business, and every person we have sold P. P. P. to says it is the best blood purifier known. Yours truly, WINTHROP & CO.

The commercial interests of Santa Clara county demand an improved waterway at Alviso.

DYSPEPSIA.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have taken your Vegetable Sarsaparilla and can say I have never seen anything equal to it. I have suffered ten years with dyspepsia, not being able to eat anything but milk and brown bread. Life was nothing but misery for me.

Now I have a good appetite, can eat anything I wish and feel no disagreeable effects from it. I wish I could tell all dyspeptic and urge them to try your Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Signed, MR. JOHN TIMOTHY, Foreston, Cal.

If you want to get a spring medicine without a blotch, an old sarsaparilla trade mark, a big patch of red pimples, take Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.

As Cuban liberty gains ground the supineness of our own Government becomes more noticeable.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from a nervous prostration from financial losses. Can say Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla has cured me. My liver, stomach and bowels have been very inactive but since taking your remedy I am entirely well. All business men and women should use it. Please publish. Signed, MR. WM. HENRY JONES, Butte, Montana.

Backache, dizziness, tiredness give way to Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla.
